MONTGOMERY FAIR

Closed Saturday and Was the Most Successful One Ever Held By the Association.

LARGE CROWDS IN ATTENDANCE

The Montgomery County Fair closed Saturday after a successful five days meeting. The crowds were larger than ever before, the show and speed rings were the best ever seen in this section, the weather was almost perfect, and taken as a whole, the fair was the best county fair ever given in Central Kentucky. Thursday was the banner day, there being between six and seven thousand people here on that day. The crowds were orderly and there were no disturbances of any consequence during the week. Everything was just as advertised with the single exception of the flying machine, which was out of order and was unable to make a single flight, to the regret of the management. But taken as a whole, from every point of view, the fair was the most successful one ever given by the Association, and everyone is talking of the great Montgomery County Fair of 1911.

Negro Fractures Boy's Skull.

Last Friday evening in an altercation near the Fair Grounds Dee Carter, a young negro, about twenty-one years old, struck J. E. Williams, a young white boy, nearly grown, in the head with a brick, knocking him down and rendering him unconscious. Williams is the son of J. A. Williams, of this county. Carter and his brother, Jim, whom the officers say assisted in the difficulty, are in jail awaiting trial.

Williams is in a dangerous condition. He has been unconscious since the injury and his skull is thought to have been fractured.

The Carter brothers are regarded as bad negroes. Some months ago Dee Carter was tried and served several months in jail for striking Jasper Fodrey, a white man, with a rock, inflicting an ugly wound on the leg and nearly breaking it.

Sells Fine Horse.

Mr. Robert Nelson, whose fine two-year-old stallion, Cloud King, Jr., won the blue ribbon at the Montgomery County Fair last week, has sold one-half interest in this fine horse for $500 to "Dick" Shultz, of Pewee Valley. Mr. Shultz will show this horse throughout the Kentucky Fair Circuit.

Father Shoots Son.

Jim Burbridge, colored, shot and wounded his son, Allie Burbridge, in the breast last Friday night, with a pistol, inflicting a painful, but not serious wound. Burbridge is in jail and stoutly denies his guilt, claiming the shooting was purely accidental.

Sells Bryan Studio.

The Bryan Studio, one of the oldest and best known establishments of its kind in Central Kentucky, was sold last week by Mr. Percy D. Bryan to Mr. D. J. Chandler, of Catlettsburg, Ky., who took possession at once. Mr. Chandler comes to our city highly recommended as a first-class photographer and a gentleman of high character, and the Bryan Studio will continue to be run on the same high plane that it has been run for the past 32 years.

Mr. Bryan is undecided as to what business he will engage in, but it is thought, and sincerely hoped, that he will decide to remain in Mt. Sterling, as he is one of our most popular, prominent and progressive young business men.

Change of Location.

The Gathrie Clothing Co., which has been located at the corner of Main and Maysville streets for a long number of years, has moved its place of business to the Apperson building on Main street next door to the Montgomery National Bank.

THOMPSON B. OLDHAM

Formerly of This County and Father of W. P. Oldham Dies in Harrodsburg, Aged 92 Years.

Thompson B. Oldham, of Burgin, Ky., formerly of this city, died in Harrodsburg Saturday, aged 92 years, death being caused by general debility.

Mr. Oldham was born in Madison county in 1819 and later moved to this county where he lived until seven or eight years ago, when he removed to Burgin. He was a man of sterling quality and was well known and admired in this city where he had a host of friends who had learned to know him while engaged in business in this city, and to know such a man one could not help but admire and love him. Though the Angel has called one who has spent a long life of usefulness to cross the great divide at a ripe old age, he will be greatly missed and many hearts will be made sad; but his blessed example will live and, like the stars, will shine on forever.

It was in 1866 that his wife preceded him to the grave and this was the first death in the family since that time. In 1904 there was held a family reunion in Harrodsburg and for the first time since Mrs. Oldham's death all of the family were assembled together.

The remains were brought to this city Monday and interred in Maplelawn Cemetery. He is survived by seven children: Mrs. Smith Hansford, Harrodsburg; Mrs. Matt Tyler, Washington, D. C.; Mrs. Lou Mitchell, Fayette county; Miss Vena Oldham, Missionary to Japan; Mrs. Eliza

Combs, Burgin, Ky.; Mrs. Sallie Reppert, Silverton, O., and W. P. Oldham, of this city, all of whom have the deepest sympathy of many friends in their hour of trouble.

Change in Livery Firm.

Mr. J. H. Sumpter has bought the interest of Mr. J. T. Morgan in the livery firm of Morgan & Sumpter and will continue to conduct the business along the same high class lines as in the past. Mr. Sumpter is a splendid business man and deserves a good portion of the trade and is sure to get it as he is quite popular and has a splendid livery barn.

A Curiosity.

Michael Howard brought to our office last week an old Irish potato from the inside of which had grown a new potato as large as a hen's egg. The potato had not been planted, but grew in the cellar. The new potato has absorbed most all the substance from the old one and will continue to grow until it is all absorbed. It is quite a curiosity and can be seen at our office.

Best line of meats in the city at Greenwade's.

Accepts Position.

Miss Ollie Triplett has been selected as teacher in the Sharpsburg Graded School and will have charge of the primary department. She is a capable and efficient young lady and will make an excellent teacher.

When in doubt as to what to have for dinner, call us and let us tell you of the good things we have. Vanarsdell's.

Some Use.

The pestiferous potato bug has yielded up his striped ugliness for the benefit of scientific breeding. Prof. Tower of the University of Chicago has produced some surprising results in modifying type and color of the beetle through hybridization and environment. These alterations are both physiological and chromatic. As a result of his experiments he declares that something apparently wholly new can be evolved by the breeder. This is his summing up: "Crossing brings new attributes which did not exist in either parent and which are wholly unknown in a state of nature. Even change in environment produces qualities which are inheritable."

Clean Cornfields.

Weeds have been prevented from appearing or have been eradicated in cornfields to a greater extent than during any season for many years. Dry weather ensued shortly after the seed germinated, and in some parts persisted until within the past few weeks. Cultivation has consequently been unusually successful in its relation to weed control.

Cornfields are remarkably clean, and where they have not been ridged the soil will tempt its preparation for wheat and rye in the fall. In some regions the seeding of the land to alfalfa in standing corn, which is later to be siloed or shocked, will be a wise practice. And there remains time enough for such forage crops as rape, the sorghums, some of the millets and the early varieties of cowpeas to produce tons of valuable feed before plant growth ceases late in the fall. In view of the shortage of hay and pasture, stock-farmers should seed a considerable individual acreage of their cornfields to some of these emergency crops. For early winter and spring grazing rye is a dependable standby in practically every agricultural state. Stock-farmers can always make profitable use of rye as a pasture.

Now that the drouth is broken in the leading farming regions the use of clean cornfields as seedbeds for quick-growing forage crops is well worth considering. Not only can valuable green feed be produced before cold weather comes, but humus (and nitrogen if legumes be sown) can be added and the soil physically improved for cropping the next spring.

Disc Your Land.

The fight against drouth must not stop with the corn. Dry weather now means a decrease in the liberation of plant food in the soil as well as a shortage of moisture for the fall sown wheat, grass and alfalfa. Success in withstanding the winter, and big crops next summer, depend largely upon a strong start the coming fall. Early stirring of the land after harvest is essential to the best preparation for fall-sown crops. Plowing is slow and the last of the land to be turned loses its moisture through drouth or weeds. It probably pays best to disc all the land before starting to plow, thus killing weeds and covering the fields with a protective mulch of loose soil. This not only conserves moisture, but it keeps the ground from getting hard. Accordingly the plow runs easily, holds its edge well and turns up moist mellow soil where there might have been an inhospitable mixture of weeds and clods. It is important to have the ground settle well after it is plowed so that there is a good connection with the bottom of the furrow before a crop is sown. When the land has been disced ahead of the plow the loose surface soil fills the crevices in the plowed ground and makes the best kind of a foundation for a seed-bed. It takes no longer to disc a field ahead of the plow than to smash clods after it. Cracking clods is a thankless task, but early disking brings positive benefits.

OUR BABEL OF TONGUES.

The old and the young sometimes have difficulty in understanding each other's language. Geraldine, playing with her little companions on the sidewalk, succeeded in fooling one of them rather neatly. Pleased with the infant crime, she dashed in to tell her grandmother: "Margaret got stung, grandma." "What stung her, dear, a bee?" asked grandma, mildly. Geraldine stared at her in blank surprise. "What's a bee?" she asked, deeply perplexed. "Well, what do you mean by 'stung'?" inquired grandma, in equal dismay, and at last accounts neither had been able to make the other comprehend what was meant.

NOT GUILTY.

"Lady," began Hungry Higgins, "I'd thank yer for a meal—" "Ah!" exclaimed the bright housekeeper, "you're one of these after-dinner speakers." "Not exactly, lady, or I wouldn't be so hungry. I ain't got so much as a chestnut about me."

BUTTER AWARDS WILL TEMPT THE FARMERS

NEW DEPARTMENT PROVIDED, AT SUGGESTION OF EXPERIMENT STATION.

Especial attention will be given this year in connection with the Kentucky State Fair to creamery butter. The management desires to encourage this industry in Kentucky and it has been decided that creamery butter, honey and sorghum molasses will be placed in the horticultural department. Here before it has been a part of the field, seed and grain department. The horticultural department always is one of the most interesting at the big fair, and not alone to the residents of the rural sections, and the addition of these displays will increase the interest materially.

Members of the state fair board express the opinion that a more important feature than that of creamery butter will be hard to find and the display is expected to be such as to evidence the lead which Kentucky has taken in this phase of agricultural endeavor. The experiment station of Kentucky State university recommends the creamery butter display.

FREE ADMISSION NIGHT HORSE SHOW

POPULAR INNOVATION FOR NINTH ANNUAL STATE FAIR.

"I'LL BE THERE; WILL YOU?"

Slogan For All Kentuckians Is Adopted By Management—Perry's Victory on Lake Erie.

Dozens of new departments and attractions which have been created by the state fair board for the coming 9th annual state fair do not by any means constitute all of the inducements to the public to attend, as a proposition which caps the climax for generosity has been finally decided upon. That is to admit the public to the big horse show at night in the pavilion free of charge. To be exact, the only requirement for admission to this show, one which will include dozens of horses which have carried off premiums in the most exclusive shows in the country, will be to buy a ticket for admission at the gate. In the past an extra admission fee of 25 cents has been charged for the privilege of the horse show held each night.

The only exception to this rule will be that a few seats will be roped off and tickets for these will be sold. But those not wishing to pay an extra quarter, even though the horse show will be worth double that sum, may see it in perfect comfort by occupying free of charge any of the seats not reserved to be sold.

For Kentucky's Benefit.

As a result of this and other inducements, the greeting, "I'll be there; will you?" is expected to be heard on all hands prior to and during fair week. By the way, there is a good deal of real patriotism embodied in this expression, "I'll be there; will you?" when it is heard in connection with the big show which is being prepared for the people of Kentucky. This will not be a fair for the material benefit of one man or set of men. Many business men are giving up their time, and going to much trouble, without recompense of any character, in order to make the fair a success.

Tens of thousands of dollars will be paid out to Kentuckians in premiums, the industries and resources of the state will be helped and the citizens given an opportunity to see and learn, at a cost of fifty cents each more than could be seen or learned under such circumstances anywhere else in the country except at a similar institution. Therefore, when a Kentuckian along about the time state fair week approaches is heard giving his neighbor this greeting, he is interested in encouraging the exhibition of the products of his home state and he is entitled to all credit.

The Kentucky State Fair is developing each year more and more into a place where friendships are renewed, relatives are met, voters are rallied and conventions of all character held. In the past the convenience tent has been located at an out-of-the-way place hard to find and poorly located. Secretary P. M. Shy has decided this year to locate it to the left of the visitor to the ground entrance, directly opposite the Model School building. A commodious tent will be provided and all arrangements necessary to the holding of the different gatherings made.

Bureau of Information.

Still another innovation, and one which most probably will appeal to the public forcibly, will be a Bureau of Information located just at the point where the main road for pedestrians branches off around the semi-circular piece of lawn used as a resting place. Secretary Shy says that in this Bureau of Information he will have established a man who knows his business and who will freely give any information as to points around the fair grounds.

Perry's famous victory on Lake Erie, which soon is to be celebrated in an imposing manner by representatives of several states, together with the national government, will be among the fire works features. This is a feature not only apropos but one which promises to be of thrilling interest.

MYRIAD FEATURES BANISH DULL CARE

ATTRACTIONS OF PASS WILL CONTRAST WITH MORE SERIOUS EXHIBITS.

MUSIC BY ELEPHANT BAND

Free Attractions More Numerous Than Ever Before Furnished—Racing Events Are Corkers.

Variety not only is the spice of life but experience has proven that it is one of the requisites of success for a big undertaking of a public character such as a state fair. In recognition of this fact the management of the Kentucky State Fair has made plans for the ninth annual exhibition which promise entertainment for all classes and sections. While the more serious form of entertainment comes first, especially in connection with an educational institution such as the Kentucky State Fair is proving to be, the demand always is great for something in a lighter vein which will help drive dull care away and furnish a kind of mental dessert for the feast of good things which the new premium list discloses.

It was the recognition of this element in human nature which caused the slide show at the county fair to be born. The idea progressed until the great international exhibitions at Chicago and St. Louis were produced. It was at the former that the Midway became a reality and at the latter that the Pass was introduced. Both struck a popular chord and thus it is that the different state fairs are not considered complete without some such feature.

Both Novel and Clean.

But, together with the adoption of the Pass feature has come the recognition of the further fact that the general public will not long approve it unless it is encompassed by moral surroundings and not prove offensive to the crowds which attend. The contracts made for the myriad Pass features for the coming fair included stipulations to the effect that the shows must be clean, while retaining the virtue of being novel. This condition will be complied with. Not only will the shows be novel but they will be new. The old time, much worked over exhibitions will not be countenanced. On the Pass, as well as everywhere else, the public will be expected to be given their money's worth and failure on the part of showmen to do this will meet with instant rebuke.

As an adjunct to the Pass features will be the numerous free acts, all thrilling and exciting. Caterers to popular amusement assert that the great Babcock act in which a bicycle rider dashes down a steep incline, loops the loop and gaps the gap so quickly that the spectators can with difficulty follow him with their eye, is one of the most thrilling ever produced.

Music on All Hands.

The musical elephants will be a source of continuous delight to the children as well as their elders. The "stunts" which these huge pachyderms perform illustrate what patience and ingenuity will accomplish in the training of wild beasts.

The Whirling Lamette Sisters furnish still another attraction of more than ordinary interest. All lovers of music will enjoy the abundance of it provided by the state fair management. Three high class bands, more than have ever before been heard on the state fair grounds, will render programs each morning, afternoon and night of the fair. Callender, the great Italian leader naturally will be most in evidence.

Fat Purges For the Races.

A total of $6,500 in purses will be offered in connection with the racing events which will exceed in interest any ever before held. Kentucky is today the center of racing as a result of the fight made on the sport in numerous states and the stand early taken by the legislature in passing laws for the control of racing which puts it on a high plane. There will be twelve races in all during the week, seven trotting and five pacing events. Due to the fact that the head-on collision is scheduled for Saturday afternoon of fair week it will mean that on the first five days of the fair the public will get more than its usual share of races. On Monday there will be two, and on Wednesday and Thursday there will be three races each.

Attention, Taxpayers!

A few of the many good things the present Mayor and City Council have given the people:

An economical and business-like administration of public affairs.

A clean and inviting city in which to live by impartial and rigid enforcement of the law, including Sunday closing laws.

An adequate sanitary sewer system, without an increase in taxation and installed free from graft or even a suspicion of it.

Brick Streets at a moderate cost, which will prove to be the greatest improvement Mt. Sterling has ever had. Many new pavements, etc., etc.

THE FAIR.

We are sure we voice the sentiments of every one when we say the Fair was all that could reasonably have been expected and more. It was a success in every respect and exactly as advertised, with the single exception of the flying machine. We have seen the written contract the Fair Association had with the aeronaut and it required successful flights or no pay. The officers of the Association were more disappointed than any one else could have been, when he was unable to comply with his contract, as their chief aim has been at all times, to deal frankly and fairly with the public.

We congratulate them upon their splendid showing and while they say it will be even bigger and better next year, to make their assertion good they will certainly have to go some.

Last week we suggested that the city provide a free hitching place for the use of the country people, who patronize our merchants and to whom we are indebted, in a large measure, for the present prosperous condition of our city. Every time one comes to the city, for a few minutes, he should not be required to pay a livery bill, but should be provided with a free hitching place, if he desires to avail himself of its use. Many of our readers, in conversation with the writer, have endorsed our suggestion and we hope this matter will be taken up, in the very near future and favorably acted upon.

Since the additional cost will be slight, we hope the property-owners in the brick street district will at once concrete between the gutter and the pavements, as has been done in front of the drug store of Mr. Thomas Kennedy, as it will widen the pavements, make them uniform and add to their general appearance very materially.

Mayor Samuels saw one of his favorite dreams materialize Saturday, when he laid the first brick on our new streets.

Too Modest.

Modesty is a charming trait of woman but it can be carried too far. One who had the reputation of being the most modest woman in Allentown, Pa., lost her leg and then her life by maintaining that reputation. She suffered a serious injury to one of her legs, but steadfastly refused to let a doctor see it, saying her husband was the only man who had that right. Blood poisoning set in, amputation was necessary and the poor woman went to her grave for carrying her modesty too far. —Lexington Herald.

WRATHY AGAINST SENATOR BRADLEY

Lexington Republicans Protest at Ousting of Walker.

Lexington, Ky.—Prominent Republican leaders here have in the last day or two written strong personal letters to President Taft protesting against the "decapitation" of Postmaster Thomas L. Walker at the instance of Senator Bradley and the appointment of his personal friend, Wilbur R. Smith, as Walker's successor.

These letters are said to give the President some inside facts about the postoffice situation here, showing how Walker, one of the original Taft men of Kentucky, who pulled off his coat and organized Taft clubs all over the State four years ago, was removed over the indorsement of nine-tenths of the patrons of the office, Democrats as well as Republicans, to gratify a personal pique which Bradley had against Walker.

Friends of Walker are talking of holding a public indignation meeting to protest against his removal and to hang Senator Bradley in effigy.

"I suffered habitually from constipation. Doan's Regulators relieved and strengthened the bowels, so that they have been regular ever since."—A. E. Davis, grocer, Sulphur Springs, Tex.

The Summer Silo.

Usually declaration runs that the manufacturer can control conditions while the farmer is at the mercy of the elements. Neither of these statements is entirely true. The manufacturer strikes snags in the modern commercial world that necessitate the most skillful piloting of his capital-haden craft. The farmer is not nearly as helpless as he has led himself to believe.

The farmer can fight a flood in a measure and he can combat a drought in marked degree, or mitigate its losses. Only a small percentage of farm land lies along river bottoms susceptible to overflow in a rainy season, and by the use of tile and open drains the uplands can be usually safeguarded from the disastrous results of flooding rains. Drought can be effectively fought by intelligent cultivation—which means primarily the preservation of the spring moisture that begins to suffer loss from the first furrow turned in the field. A harrow following the plow—they can be attached to the plow nowadays—will conserve tons of water for use in times of drought. Harrow work on grain-fields and cornfields will seal the stores of moisture against a time of need. Surface cultivation and the dust mulch will blanket the subsoil moisture in a cornfield. The farmer does not need to sit and take what comes. He is far more the arbiter of his own fortune than he imagines.

And he can fight drought by accumulated food products to tide him over. We repeat that the dairy farmer who has not learned the value of alfalfa and the summer silo has yet to learn the fundamentals of his business. No plant will fight a drought as alfalfa will. No crop will so easily, cheaply and effectively tide the farmer over a scorching summer as siloed corn. The winter silo is only half the possible provision for the economic feeding of farm animals.

The capricious season which brings barren pastures must be met with the summer silo. As a matter of fact, no high-priced land can yield in grass the value it will produce for the silo. This fact ought to be ingrained in the consciousness of every farmer even if drought did not frequently cut his profits short. Let alfalfa and the summer silo fight the fight against drought and rising cost of farm production.

Stirring Up the Negro.

In a speech to an audience of colored people at Washington, Caleb Powers put the blame upon the white man for their troubles and condition, and advised them to stand together and fight for their rights.

Most anyone can give advice, but few are able to follow their own. For instance, Mr. Powers had a chance once to fight for his alleged rights in Kentucky, but he didn't. When charged with the vile crime of having conspired in the assassination of Governor Goebel, did the man who is now trying to stir up insurrection among the negroes follow his own advice and fight? Nay, verily. As Secretary of State he wrote out his own pardon for a crime he says now he is innocent of and made that base imitation of a man, W. S. Taylor, sign it as Governor of Kentucky, and attest it with the great seal of the Commonwealth. Then, disguised as a soldier, wearing false beard and protected by a company of soldiers, he tried to flee to his mountain fastnesses in a railroad coach. The best laid plans of mice and men gang aft aglee, however, and Sheriff Henry M. Bosworth of Fayette county, and posse, took him from his protectors with no show of fight on his part and little effort at resistance on theirs.

All of which makes us say what we do say that it is much easier to give advice than to follow it yourself.

Extension of Farm Education.

It is easier for Mahomet to go to the mountain than it is for the mountain to go to Mahomet. It is therefore proposed to carry the extension of agricultural education to each county of each state. It is possible to take this instruction to the people. It is not possible to take the people to the established educational institutions. As a matter of fact, even the small proportion of farmers who knock at the doors of our farm colleges have taxed facilities until instructors are in despair. It is practical, and rational, that college extension work should be carried by college-trained men into every county, and possibly later on into every township.

National and state legislation should supply the funds, as they now supply the support to colleges and experimental stations. The Illinois Bankers' Association is the first to make public this practical idea, and the Illinois State Farmers' Institute quickly adopted the suggestion, and asked for the necessary financial provision. A strong organization is being perfected for the purpose of instituting a campaign of education designated to obtain the needed legislation. With that association it is believed the organized bankers of this and other states will affiliate. It will afford a strong central position around which can rally all the forces which are bearing forward this farm education campaign.

Soil conservation, larger yields, better grains, more profit, increased comfort and social uplift for the farmer—these are the prime objects.

Sells Property.

R. L. Stewart sold for J. M. Oliver his residence and 4½ acres of land in the suburbs to H. M. Kirk at a private price, possession to be given March 1.

THE PARENTS' JOKE.

Some parents seem unable to resist the temptation to make a joke with the Christian names of their children, says the London Chronicle. The Somerset house registers testify to the existence of a Mr. Mineral Waters, a Frosty Winter and an Alfred Days Weeks. There is something to be said in favor of naming children in the order of their arrival—Primus, Secundus, etc.—but it is unfortunate for a well-known Canadian named Cumber that it should have fallen to his lot to be a Quintus, for his name is always appearing in the papers as Mr. Q. Cumber.

FRECKLE-FACE

New Remedy That Removes Freckles or Costs Nothing.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-Face, to try a new remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles, while if it does give you a clear complexion, the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength, from Wm. S. Lloyd's drug store and one night's treatment will show you how easy it is to rid yourself forever of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask Wm. S. Lloyd's drug store for the double strength othine as this is the only prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

DOUBTFUL IMPROVEMENT.

Mrs. Boyle—How's yer husband after the accident?

Mrs. Doyle—Faith, sunstimes he's better an' sunstimes he's worse, but from the way he swears and yells an' takes on whin' he's better, I thinks he's better whin' he's worse.

NO REMEDY.

"After the circus parade had passed yesterday," wearily said the landlord of the Polkville (Ark.) tavern, "them two young ladies, Maxine and Lucille, that wait table here, got into sort of a dispute over which of 'em it was that the clown had winked at, each claimin' the credit, or discredit, I don't know which. One illustrated her views by beating the other over the head with the dinner bell, while the other voiced her opinion with a ketchup bottle. Of course I understand how, being working ladies, they resent all insinuations that they are in any way my inferiors; but still after the ketchup bottle had spread most of its contents over the scene and the clapper had flown out of the bell and broken a window I sorter felt called upon to interfere and stop the fracas.

"No, it ain't worth while to fire 'em. Ladies will be ladies, and there ain't no help for it."—Puck.

HIS HABIT.

"What made you mutilate this handsome new book?" asked the physician's wife. "The first thing you did was to cut out a portion of it and throw it away!"

"Excuse me, my dear," was the regretful answer. "It was professional instinct. The portion you refer to was labeled 'appendix.'"

WHICH WOULD YOU CHOOSE?

If you saw a row of apples, everyone differing in size, ripeness and color, and all for sale at the same price, wouldn't you choose the best? Why not do the same thing when you buy fire insurance? The cost of insurance is substantially the same in all agencies, but what you get for your money varies as much as the apples in the row.

Choose then HOFFMAN'S INSURANCE AGENCY. For Nearly Three Quarters of a Century it has paid every loss, big and little. It's reputation is unexcelled. It is the best fire insurance apple of them all, and its policies cost no more than those in agencies of inferior quality. Why not use the same judgment in buying insurance that you would in such a trivial matter as buying fruit at a fruit stand?

BLACKSTONE AND GOLDSMITH.

In deciding to place a tablet on the house in Lincoln's Inn Fields where Sir William Blackstone lived, the London county council have probably been guided by the fact that the most famous residence of the judge and commentator already carries a distinguishing sign. This is in the Temple, but the tablet is to Goldsmith's memory. Here Oliver gave dinners to his staid friends and supper parties to young folks of both sexes. It was the supper parties which disturbed Blackstone, whose chambers were immediately below, and on many an evening his studies on the "Commentaries" were broken by the racket made by his "reveling neighbor."

AN INGENUOUS REPLY.

A hostess, whose friends had arrived unexpectedly, got up an impromptu dinner party, and was compelled to send to the nearest bakery for some tarts. All went on well until the hostess, unluckily wishing to show off by pretending not to know what was at her own table, pointed to the dish with an air of great dignity, and inquired, "John, what are these tarts?" Whereat John, in the innocence of his heart, looking at the tarts in a commercial rather than a culinary point of view, briskly replied, "Five cents apiece, ma'am."

THE GIRL'S HANDICAP.

In her pretty new frock sister Mabel felt quite proud as she sat on the front step and watched some boys playing on the sidewalk.

After a time one little boy came up to talk to her and to admire, in his rough little way, her bright, shiny shoes and pink sash.

"See my nice square-cut waist," exclaimed the girlie, "and my nice coral beads! Don't you wish you wuz a girl?"

"No, sir-ee," replied the boy; "I wouldn't want to be any girl at all, because lookie how much more neck you haf to wash."

Relations Cemented.

Now that the Canadian reciprocity bill is passed, and the tumult and the shouting dies, it will be plain to everyone that the agitation against it was ill-founded and, in some quarters at least, ill-intentioned. The farmers of the West will not be wrecked, and the price of necessities will not be cut in half, but trade relations between Canada and America will be cemented, trade will be stimulated and both countries will be benefited by the stimulation. The removal of duties from Canada products could not injure the farmers of the United States if the farmers of the East are not bankrupt because there is no line of custom houses along the Mississippi.

Mr. La Follette and other "insurgent" Republicans who have maintained a holier-than-thou attitude for several years, but who declined to support President Taft in the matter of reciprocity were less wise than Mr. Root, who being unable to defeat the bill by amendment did not oppose it when the vote was taken. Senators Bailey, Simmons and Clarke, the only Democrats who voted against reciprocity, will have to answer to their constituents when the worth of the measure has been demonstrated. Senator Paynter, whose integrity was not doubted in Kentucky or elsewhere when he made the error of giving Mr. Lorimer an endorsement, and whose disinterestedness as a public servant is beyond question, showed discretion in voting with the majority of his colleagues upon this measure. President Taft, who has learned a good deal since he became President, and who is now less the "good-natured man surrounded by persons who know exactly what they want" than he was when he was first so described, made a good standing-up fight for reciprocity. His laurels are not dimmed by the fact that it required Democratic aid to pass the measure.

Time will prove the treaty right in principle and benign in effect. And time will bring to the farmers of the West clear proof that when a junta in New York undertakes to defend the farmer from the machinations of anti-protectionists the undertaking is dishonest. This knowledge may be useful in the future. It may aid in making easier the needed revision of the tariff which has been impossible save because of the apathy of "ultimate consumers" not alive to the injustice of the old system of exploitation and division, and easily imposed upon by fallacies as transparent as that the removal of import duties on the agricultural products of Canada would bankrupt producers of goods in either of two contiguous countries that export them, and sell them at prices fixed in a market on the other side of the ocean under the law of supply and demand.—Courier-Journal.

Canadian Harvest.

The market is burdened with a deluge of wheat, old and new crop, and how prices hold up is somewhat of a mystery. The fact that drought continues to eat into the Northwest accounts for it in part. Some sensational damage claims were put out last week, running well up into North Dakota. Threshers' returns in the winter wheatbelt have been quite satisfactory. Only the threat of frost disturbs the peace of mind of the wheat-farmer in the Canadian Northwest. Conditions in that territory have been generally ideal. Oats have suffered a decline of about 6 cents in the speculative price recently, influenced in part by the reports of unexpected yields at the machine.

Preachers won't have to be called any more. A correspondence school to teach theology has been incorporated in New Jersey and now any man who has the price and feels inclined can fit himself for the pulpit. But even such would be an improvement on many who preach now without the knowledge of theology or of any other kind of ology.

U. S. MARINE BAND WILL PLAY AT THE BLUE GRASS FAIR

Coming of This Musical Organization Indicates Importance of the Big Exposition Week of August 7th to 12th

United States Marine Band, from Photograph Taken in Front of the White House, Washington D. C.

The most remarkable opportunity that has ever been offered the people of Kentucky in a musical way will be the appearance of the famous United States Marine Band, which comes from Washington City to play at the Blue Grass Fair at Lexington throughout the week of August 7th to 12th.

Conceded by competent judges everywhere to be the best organization of its kind in the world, the fame of the Marine Band has extended to every section of the country. It may be truthfully stated that in very large degree it was this band which made John Phillip Sousa, the noted band master, famous. Under his direction the Marine Band attained a degree of eminence that brought it into international prominence and during the term of its present leader, Lieut. William A. Samelmann, it has fully maintained the standards then set.

The mere statement that the Marine Band is coming to the Blue Grass Fair carries with it a tremendous testimonial of the importance of the big exposition which will hold forth at Lexington during the second week in August. Never before has this noted organization appeared on the grounds of any fair—state, district or county. Indeed, only in instances of the largest expositions, such as the World's Fairs at Chicago and St. Louis, has it been allowed to leave Washington. Its coming to Lexington is the result of three years' work on the part of the management of the Blue Grass fair.

Efforts have been made continuously for each of the past three years to secure this great organization, but without success, until the present season. And in this instance the result has been achieved only through the powerful influence of Hon. Chaas Clark, speaker of the house of representatives, who through personal effort secured the consent of the President of the United States and of the secretary of the navy, to allow the band to make the trip. Each of the men composing the organization is entitled to a furlough for a brief period every year. By granting all of the furloughs for the week of August 7th to 12th, the navy department made possible the engagement of the band to the Blue Grass fair without violating its own rule.

Throughout the summer months the Marine Band gives a concert on the lawn in front of the White House a Washington each Saturday afternoon. After the regular concert on the afternoon of August 5th, it will take a special train to Lexington, arriving over the C. & O. railroad on Sunday, August 6th. Sunday evening a special sacred concert will be given at the Blue Grass fair grounds and each afternoon and evening throughout the week of the fair this splendid band will furnish the music.

The opportunity that will thus be afforded the people of Central Kentucky is absolutely unprecedented. Any lover of music would gladly pay from $1.00 to $1.50 to hear such an organization as the Marine Band, but at the Blue Grass fair prolonged concerts by this band will be heard and innumerable features of the greatest interest will, in addition, be offered—all for the admission fee of fifty cents. It, therefore, seems reasonable to suppose that on the strength of this one feature the management of the fair may anticipate record-breaking crowds.

At each concert not only will an excellent program of instrumental music be given, but there will also be varied vocal selections. The Marine Band has its own choruses of splendid male voices and the programs will be so arranged as to give the audiences the full benefit of the training and the melody of these voices.

SPEED PROGRAM

RUNNING RACES WILL BE GIVEN ON EACH OF THE SIX DAYS OF BLUE GRASS FAIR.

Each Day Will Witness a Cup Race Open to All Members of the Gentlemen's Driving Club of Lexington.

An excellent speed program has been arranged for the Blue Grass fair which will be held at Lexington the week of August 7th to 12th. On each of the six days will be given running races and on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday there will be races for light harness horses as well. On each of these days will be witnessed a cup race open to members of the Gentlemen's Driving Club of Lexington and one of the several races for which monetary prizes are offered.

The 2:16 trot is scheduled for the afternoon of Monday, August 7th; the two-year-old trot for Tuesday afternoon; the 2:20 pace for Wednesday; the three-year-old trot for Thursday, and the 2:22 trot for Friday. In both the 2:16 trot and the two-year-old trot at the Blue Grass fair last year new records for the season were set. There is every reason to believe that these events will be equally interesting in the contests which they offer this year and will probably bring together a larger number of horses.

The most attractive feature in the matter of running races will be a special race for gentlemen riders, which has been gotten up at the request of members of the Lexington Polo club. In this club are being developed a number of expert horsemen and the Gentlemen's Cup race will bring together eight or ten of these, mounted on some of the best thoroughbreds to be found in Central Kentucky. This race will be put on Monday afternoon, the opening day of the fair, and is certain to prove one of the most attractive features witnessed during the week.

THE POULTRY SHOW

The poultry show at the Blue Grass fair the week of August 7th to 12th is going to be a feature of outstanding importance. A classification embodying prizes for 268 different classes of poultry and pigeons has been opened and every indication points to a record-breaking entry list. Mr. S. B. Lane, of Spiceland, Ind., has consented to judge the poultry. Dr. C. W. Trapp, of Lexington, will judge the pigeons. The show is being managed by men who have been prominent in Blue Grass Poultry association, who are thoroughly in touch with poultry conditions throughout the south and who feel sure of being able to bring to the Blue Grass fair such an entry list as will make a most creditable and desirable show.

WOMAN'S DEPARTMENT.

The Woman's department of the Blue Grass fair, which will be held at Lexington the week of August 7th to 12th, is more extensive and important this year than ever before. The premium list has been improved and enlarged and classes are offered which cover specifically almost every kind of women's work and table luxury. To this department is given up the entire third floor of the large Floral hall. On the second floor of the building are attractive booths utilized by Lexington merchants for the display of their wares. As for two years past, the Floral hall will be under the direction and management of Mr. G. Norton Sharpe. It promises to be more attractive from every standpoint this year than ever before.

HALF FARE RATES TO FAIR.

Do not fail to visit the Blue Grass fair at Lexington, the week of August 7th to 12th. One-half fare rates will prevail on all railroads in Kentucky. Each afternoon, beginning with Tuesday, there will be aeroplane flights by the world renowned aviator, J. A. D. McCurdy. Each afternoon and evening, beginning with Sunday, August 6th, there will be magnificent band concerts by the renowned U. S. Marine band from Washington City.

Clark's Weekly News of the Harness Horse

The Huguenot in Ed. Geers' stable rather "put one over" on the boys at the Kalamazoo Grand Circuit meeting in the 2:15 trot for $1,000. The knowing ones had The Huguenot sized up as a bad actor and wouldn't have a chance. The fact that he was to be driven by John Benyon was also deemed to be against his chances to win; but they did not reckon with the ability of the veteran Ed. Geers in teaching manners to stubborn horses. The veteran had his time with the Abbot, brother of The Huguenot, which was a tough proposition, yet he made him a champion trotter in his day. Aside from a break at the start of the first heat, which was quickly over, The Huguenot trotted a most imposing race which he won in straight heats. The time did not stamp him so much as a horse to be reckoned with as the exceeding ease with which he did it.

Another sensational transaction in the horse world last week was added to several that have transpired since the spring training season opened, which shows the possibilities of the trotter as a coin getter. The trotter Jeremiah 2:154, by Ensor, was sold by V. L. Shuler, of Indianapolis, for $10,000. Mr. Shuler attended one of the Chicago sales a few months ago and picked Jeremiah up at $1,175, took him to his training quarters and began to make speed with him, so that at the recent Indianapolis meeting Jeremiah was separately timed in the 2:08 trot in 2:07. He has been sent to the campaigning stable of Lon McDonald, and he is eligible to the 2:16 class, there is a good chance of his raking in some of the purses for his new owner.

STEEL MONSTERS CRASH HEAD ON

THRILLING SPECTACLE PROMISED FOR VISITORS AT KENTUCKY STATE FAIR.

COLD SHIVERS A PLENTY

Two Monster Steel Steam Engines Dash to Certain Destruction in Full View of Spectators.

Seldom is it that any community is afforded an opportunity to witness such an ambitious and thrilling performance as is promised the crowds in attendance at the Kentucky State Fair on Saturday, September 16, when the spectacle is provided of two monster steam engines, started under a full head of steam and permitted to crash head-on in full view of the spectators. A sight such as this is sufficient to cause the most stolid of persons, he with the nerves of steel, to involuntarily shudder and flinch as the collision occurs.

The hiss of escaping steam, the bursting of the great boilers, the rending of the formidable iron parts, the tearing and crashing and grinding of twisted masses of steel are even inspiring in the terrible force which accompanies them.

The sight of the two mountains of machinery rushing headlong into each other's embrace is sufficient to freeze the blood in one's veins, and send shivers of fear rushing up and down the spinal columns, despite the knowledge that there is no personal danger. The sensations resulting are intense but it is such as these that the human family is seeking to-day, and no more spectacular offering could be provided to satisfy the ever present desire for something out of the ordinary.

The engines are placed on opposite ends of a track built especially for the purpose. The fires are started, the steam is produced, the throttles are thrown open, and the two monsters are started to physical destruction by engineers who leap to safety before the impact comes.

PREMIUM LIST FOR CREAMERY BUTTER

NEW DEPARTURE FOR KENTUCKY STATE FAIR CERTAIN TO MAKE HIT.

Nursery cultivation is proving not only one of the most fascinating of studies in the rural sections of Kentucky but it also is developing into one of commercial importance which is taking high rank. To those interested it will be good news to learn that the Kentucky State Fair management has decided to offer tempting premiums for nursery displays in connection with plant and flower department.

PERMANENT BUILDING IN INTEREST OF HEALTH

The campaign for health being waged the country over is to be aided materially by the establishment on the grounds of the Kentucky State Fair, at Louisville, of a permanent health building, the cost of which will be paid by the Jefferson county fiscal court. Dr. W. Ed Grant, city health officer of Louisville, and Dr. W. B. Smock, Jefferson county health officer, took up this matter with the fiscal court and secured the appropriation. The federal government has agreed to send a corps of instructors to Kentucky each year during the fair to deliver lectures dealing with the problem of health.

Livestock, Bedecked in Ribbons, March Around Pavilion to Delight of Audience.

What has always been one of the most interesting of all the features in connection with the Kentucky State Fair was the grand parade of prize winning livestock around the ring in the pavilion building. This feature is to be given more attention this year than ever. It will be started at two o'clock on the afternoon of Friday, September 15.

This parade is an imposing one, not alone from the amount of money represented by the premiums, but because of the great amount represented in the value of all the winners combined. The slow moving, ribbon bedecked cattle seem aware of their commercial importance as they trudge around the ring, while the sleek, carefully groomed horses of high degree prance along as if more than conscious of their grace and breeding.

Collie dogs, running and barking at the crack of the whips of their masters, ponies and costly sheep and hogs, all combine to make a show equal to any presented during the week. It is a source of pride to those who own the prize winners and a stimulus to others to enter their stock in future competitions.

"Back Home" Movement.

The "Back Home" movement to the South is much discussed in all the cities and towns of the Far West. Everywhere in clubs, hotels and railroad trains you hear argument about it. It is the general opinion that the movement will turn a tide of home-seekers towards the South which, heretofore, has over-run the west and poured over into Canada. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Ry. is trying to draw upon the congestion of home seekers on the Coast for settlers to go upon the barren territory along its lines in Idaho, Montana and sections east of here.

Commercial Clubs, although they deride the "Back Home" movement, are nevertheless redoubling their efforts to continue the movement of people to this country. The high officials of railroads say nothing about it, but from subordinates it is learned that they are seeking to develop a plan to counteract the "Back Home" call and the demoralizing effect it is having on immigration from the South.
